

McCULLOCH CENTER FOR GLOBAL INITIATIVES

Travel Resources

See What to Know Before You Go: Handbook for Education Abroad for additional resources, particularly in regard to health and safety abroad.

- Abroad View, a website and magazine founded by returned study abroad students, with resources and articles on all stages of the study abroad experience, writing and photo contests, etc.
- Glimpse, a website and quarterly magazine founded by returned study abroad students. In addition to travel information and resources, Glimpse publishes contributions from students and other travelers.
- Transitions Abroad, a magazine/website focusing on socially responsible/educational travel (including work, volunteer, and service opportunities). Hard copies of the magazine are available at the McCulloch Center.
- Journeywoman, a resource for women travelers
- Lonely Planet, a resource for affordable travel
- University of Michigan International Center, a resource for women abroad
- Mobility International, resources for students with disabilities
- University of Michigan International Center, a resource for Americans of color abroad
- Cornell University, resources for gay, lesbian, bi-sexual, and transgendered students abroad
- NAFSA: Association of International Educators, Rainbow Special Interests Group, for gay, lesbian, bi-sexual, and transgendered students abroad
- The World Clock, for time zone information
- Earth Calendar, a daybook of holidays and celebrations around the world
- What's Up With Culture?, an on-line interactive resource designed to provide insights into culture to help you make successful transitions.
- University of Texas Map Library, for maps around the world
- Embassy World, for contact information on embassies around the world and other travel resources.
- OANDA Currency Converter, for exchange rates
- Department of State background notes, for fact sheets covering the people, history, geography, government, economy, and foreign relations of countries around the world.
- CIA World Fact Book, for country profiles and background information.