Rabiya Javeri-Agha ’83

Doctor of Laws

Rabiya Javeri-Agha ’83 is a driving force of change within Pakistan. Over a career in public service spanning four decades, she has advocated for the rights of women, children, LGBT individuals and other vulnerable groups. As one of the country’s most senior civil service officers, Javeri-Agha most recently served as Pakistan’s secretary of the Ministry of Human Rights.

In that capacity, Javeri-Agha was instrumental in drafting 18 human rights laws, 11 of which became law. She has led numerous government delegations before United Nations bodies, including the Human Rights Council. Trailblazing work initiated by Javeri-Agha in Pakistan includes proposing guidelines for law enforcement agencies regarding protection of the rights of transgender people, a gender-based analysis of the federal budget, national surveys on the disabled and child labor, and a national action plan on child abuse.

Javeri-Agha’s honors include the Daily Times’ Pride of Pakistan Award, the Woman of the Year UniLever Award and a gold medal from the prime minister of Pakistan. She was unanimously elected the first female president of the Pakistan Administrative Service, the largest federal association of civil servants in the country.

After graduating from Mount Holyoke with a double major in English and politics, and before joining the civil service, Javeri-Agha worked as a journalist, becoming the first woman on the news desk of Dawn, Pakistan’s oldest English-language newspaper.
Yo-Yo Ma

Doctor of Fine Arts

Yo-Yo Ma is one of the most renowned and accomplished cultural figures of our time. A child prodigy, Ma was born in Paris in 1955 and began studying cello with his musician father at age 4. When he was 7, his family moved to New York City. After conservatory training at The Juilliard School, he sought out a liberal arts education, graduating from Harvard College in 1976.

The subsequent decades have demonstrated Ma’s lifelong commitment to stretching the boundaries of genre and tradition, and proving culture’s power to generate trust and understanding. In 1998, he founded Silkroad, a collective of artists from around the world who create music that engages their many traditions. In 2018, Ma began The Bach Project, setting out to perform Johann Sebastian Bach’s six suites for solo cello in one sitting in 36 iconic locations around the world.

Ma’s more than 100 albums, which have garnered 18 Grammy Awards, reflect his wide-ranging interests. Beyond his many iconic renditions of the Western classical canon, he has made several recordings that defy categorization, among them “Appalachia Waltz” and a tribute to the music of Brazil, “Obrigado Brazil.” Recent recordings include “Six Evolutions — Bach: Cello Suites” and his latest album, “Songs of Comfort and Hope,” which he created with pianist Kathryn Stott in response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

He has performed for nine U.S. presidents, including President John F. Kennedy and President Joe Biden. He has received numerous awards, including the National Medal of Arts and the Presidential Medal of Freedom. A United Nations Messenger of Peace since 2006, Ma is married to Mount Holyoke College alum Jill Hornor ’74, whom he met at the Marlboro Music Festival in 1972.
Chloé Zhao ’05

Doctor of Fine Arts

Since the release of her feature debut “Songs My Brothers Taught Me” in 2015, two-time Oscar winner Chloé Zhao has become one of the film industry’s most acclaimed directors. Born in Beijing and raised there and in England, Zhao graduated in 2005 from Mount Holyoke College, with a political science major and film studies minor. She later studied film production at New York University’s Graduate Film program.

Zhao’s latest film, “Nomadland,” swept the 93rd annual Academy Awards this year, winning best picture and best director, as well as the best actress award. She is the first woman of color to receive an Academy Award for best director and only the second woman to win that category in nearly a century. “Nomadland” also won Golden Globe Awards and British Academy Film Awards for best picture and best director. The film premiered at the 2020 Venice Film Festival, where it was awarded the Golden Lion, among other accolades.

“Songs My Brothers Taught Me,” set on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in South Dakota, premiered to acclaim at the 2015 Sundance Festival and was nominated for a Caméra d’Or Award at the Cannes Film Festival later that year. Zhao’s next film, “The Rider” — which, like “Nomadland,” features a cadre of nonprofessional actors — took the top prize at the Directors’ Fortnight festival, held in conjunction with the Cannes Film Festival, in 2017. Her next film, “Eternals,” is part of the Marvel Cinematic Universe. It will be released in November 2021.
Casey Colaine Roepke ‘21 is a double major in physics and politics with a Nexus concentration in journalism, media and public discourse. At Mount Holyoke she conducted research on granular flow systems for Kerstin Nordstrom, associate professor of physics, and wrote an honors thesis in politics. Outside of the classroom, her extracurricular experience spanned captaining the varsity rowing team, editing the Mount Holyoke News, broadcasting for WMHC radio, serving in student government — both in Senate and for the Class Board of 2021 — and was an active participant in the campus Unitarian Universalist group. She worked as a SAW (Speaking, Arguing and Writing) mentor and as a liaison for the program, and as a physics teaching assistant.
O, Mount Holyoke, we pay thee devotion,
In the fervor of youth that is strong,
The courage of right is thy garland,
Our lives, Alma Mater, thy song.
So from east and from west now we gather,
And united in firm love to thee,
All years are as one, and their loyal pledge,
Mount Holyoke forever shall be,
Mount Holyoke forever shall be.

Through the heart of a new day’s endeavor,
Breathes the life of the old days that live,
For what thou hast given we honor,
But we love thee for what we can give.
So when soft in a whisper thou callest,
For the treasures unlocked by thy key,
Our achievements, our hopes and our glorious faith
Shall answer, Mount Holyoke, to thee,
Shall answer, Mount Holyoke, to thee.
Congratulations to the class of 2021!
